

Victoria's national parks need a strong advocate backed by many voices

Become a Member of the Victorian National Parks Association

Will you take a stand for nature?

Some of our most loved creatures are on the verge of extinction, our most precious natural places under threat.

One thing you can do to take a stand for nature is to join the Victorian National Parks Association.

As a VNPA Member, you'll help strengthen the effort to save Victoria's vanishing species, protect our beaches and the marine environment, and help rescue our parks, reserves and special places.

You'll be putting your values into practice.

As a VNPA Member, you'll be an important part of one of Victoria's oldest conservation organisations, respected for our commitment to solid science as the basis for our policies, and a 70 year history of success.

Please join us today – and make a stand for nature.

I'd like to become a Member of the Victorian National Parks Association
